WHO WE ARE

The International Security Management Association (ISMA) is a premier global membership association of preeminent security executives representing multinational organizations from all industries. Founded in 1983, we are a strategic organization exclusively for executives.

By providing an international, trusted peer information-sharing network, thought leadership, and professional development, we enable members and their organizations to effectively navigate security risks and achieve success in a volatile, uncertain, complex and ambiguous corporate climate. ISMA is focused on examining how security risk management can increasingly drive value across corporations, enabling our members to contribute directly to growth and success.

WHAT WE DO

ISMA provides members with the expertise and dexterity to effectively maneuver and abate security risks in today's rapidly evolving business environment.

Our efficacy is built on extensive, immediate, and actionable member collaboration, peer benchmarking and information sharing. ISMA sustains this effort by offering web and mobile-based communication tools, targeted communication links, an extensive library, and unparalleled resources.

ISMA also supports knowledge and expertise exchanges with individuals from the highest level of the security profession, which includes exclusive professional education programs that are among the top in the industry.

ISMA offers an unsurpassed value proposition that includes:

Robust best practices sharing

Access to a trusted network of senior security leaders from major multinationals worldwide

Immediate, actionable benchmarking

Intensive and invaluable conferences in business hubs throughout the world

Professional development for members and for the pipeline of future industry leaders

OUR MEMBERSHIP

All major industries are represented in the ISMA membership, including 25+ companies in the FTSE 100, DAX, and CAC40, together with a majority of the Fortune 100 and 25% of the Fortune 500.

MEMBERSHIP CRITERIA

ISMA membership is open to security practitioners, select major security service providers, and representatives of qualifying government agencies.

Practitioners must be the senior executive responsible for security in a private business enterprise (profit or non-profit) operating autonomously and with an international footprint, whose gross revenue exceeds one billion dollars (U.S. $1,000,000,000) or equivalent annually.

Security service providers must be the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Security Officer (CSO), or a singular designated direct line report of the CEO of a business enterprise operating autonomously, engaged in supplying a full range of consultative security services, whose business revenues which derive from such services meet or exceed one hundred million dollars (U.S. $100,000,000) or equivalent annually.

WHAT ISMA MEMBERS HAVE SAID

I joined ISMA as I stepped up as Head of Global Security and can't stress enough how helpful it's been in making this move a success. Outstanding network and resources - incredible value!

Being part of the ISMA community means that I can reach out to literally hundreds of the world's most distinguished security professionals in matters of minutes, anytime, on any topic.

ISMA membership has been invaluable to me. The ability to reach out to a trusted global network of colleagues on a variety of issues ranging from benchmarking to real-time crisis response is exceptionally powerful. I'm proud to be part of this exceptional organization.

WHY JOIN ISMA?

ISMA is an organization unlike any other - a trusted network that enables senior security executives from across the globe to come together to benchmark, to learn, and to network. The benefits are innumerable - both to the member company and to the individual - as clearly illustrated by testimonials from our members.

ISMA is a welcoming, highly connected, responsive group - our members know that when they reach out to the ISMA network with a question, a need, or a request, their fellow members will come through with the answers and support they require. No other organization offers as much in-depth experience in managing security as a business function. ISMA truly is second to none.

I hope you will consider joining this fine group of leading security professionals from around the world. I am confident that both you and your organization will immediately see the benefits of being a part of the ISMA network.
